THE LEAD LISTENING INSTITUTE

SPEAKER AND TRAINER

Effective Listening Skills
Coach and Consultant

Do you wish that people around you were better listeners? Do you feel that your organization would be more productive if its members listened more empathically? Want to have deeper conversations across differences that center our shared humanity and foster happiness, healing, health, and hope?

Dr. John G. Igwebuike is an evangelist of the “gospel of listening.” He has coached individuals, groups, companies, start-ups, nonprofits, school districts, colleges, universities, and independent schools to leverage the positive power of effective listening to build interpersonal bridges, cultivate care cultures, and foster transformational unity.

Founder of Guanacaste: The Lead Listening Society
Convener of The Lead Listening Conference

Director of School Culture--DEI at Saint Ignatius College Prep (Chicago)

Author of "I Want to Hear You": 22 Tips for Artful Listening before, during, and after a Conversation.
